Action Group Will Lead All-Campus Clean-up Week

May 15, 16, and 17 have been designated as Cleanup Week by the Student Senate which has given the Campus Action Committee of SCF the authority to supervise all activities during this three day period.

Each sorority, fraternity, and dormitory will be responsible for the raking and cleaning of trash from the same plot of ground they were assigned during the grass planting campaign according to Pierce Frederick, general chairman for the campaign. All trash collected from the plots is to be piled near the road so that it may be disposed of by the university maintenance crews.

Equipment for this general cleanup will be found in the circle in front of the Ad building. Each organization has been assigned a time on the following schedule when they may use the university equipment.

Hit-Play Claudia On Stage Next

"Claudia," a three act comedy drama by Rose Franken, will be presented by the University Theatre for a four night stand, opening May 21.

Prof. Frederick G. Walsh will direct the play.

It is a difficult play to present in that hilarious comedy and a deep emotional element have been combined into one play, but the cast has been well chosen, so we can look forward to an evening of good entertainment.

Prof. H. B. Obee and crew have produced an unusual set design, which promises to give the play added color.

Tickets will go on sale May 19 in the Well. Students will be admitted by Ac cards plus a five cent tax ticket. Reserved seats, open to the public, will be 50 cents.

All high schools, within a radius of forty miles, have been invited.

Casting to Begin For Original Plays

Three original plays to be produced by Prof. Frederick Walsh's directing class, will be included on the double bill of six one-acts which will go on stage June 2 and 3.

The originals, to be presented the first night are: "Three To Make Ready," written by Irene Cramer, directed by Jean Smith and Bill Zimmerman; "The Clown," by Mary Fournier, directed by Lee Miesle and Pat Heiser; "Road to the Rhine," by Herb Freeman, directed by Norm Stuckey.

The second bill will include: "Florist Shop," directed by Dorothy Sells and Shirley Figgins; "According to Law," directed by Bob Burns and Imogene Newman; and "Funeral Flowers for the Bride," directed by Jim Limbacher and Susan Kilmer.

Two Injured as Stands Collapse

Collapse of temporary bleachers on the circle in front of the Ad building last night resulted only in minor injuries. Two coeds who were taken to Johnston hospital for treatment should be back in classes this week, according to Dr. W. H. Brown.

The stands, erected on the muddy ground by maintenance crews for spectators at the Interfraternity sing, gave way about 7 p.m. even before the sing got underway. The event was moved to the Men's gym which had been readied earlier because of rainy weather.

Joanne Martin, freshman from Roanoke, Va., suffered shock and a bruised heel. She was borne to Johnston on a blanket stretcher from the circle, but had revived and was able to walk within a few hours.

Ruth Shanafelt, from Peninsula, O., near Akron, had a toe-nail smashed by the falling bleachers. Dr. Brown removed the nail and X-rays showed no fractures.

Of the possibly several hundred others in the stands, none reported more than minor bruises.

National Group Will Be Fifth Established at Bowling Green

Bowling Green State university welcomed its fifth national fraternity to the campus last Friday when Jack Lee, president of the local fraternity, Chi Sigma, which has been petitioning Sigma Chi, announced that the petition had been accepted.

Sigma Chi was founded in Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, June 28, 1855. It was the nineteenth college fraternity to be founded and the third to be founded at Miami. At present there are 106 active Sigma Chi chapters at various universities in the United States and Canada.

The local chapter of Chi Sigma was founded on November 20, 1945, by seven men under the leadership of Lee, following a visit by W. B. Ricks, Past Grand Consul. From its inception, the local was built and dedicated for the express purpose of petitioning Sigma Chi.

Bee Gee News Wins Honors, Regains All-American Standing

Recital Trio Among Many

News Wins Five OCN A Awards

Return to All-American in the Associated Collegiate Press critical service highlights the awards won by the Bee Gee News in national and state competition for the current year. In the Ohio College Newspaper association contests Bowling Green placed third in the weekly class this year and took four individual awards.

Bowling Green held All-American under Anthony C. Francis, editor in 1940-41, but in the six years since has rated First Class. Of the 35 weekly newspapers entered with over 2500 circulation, 13 were rated in the highest brackets.

Third best among weekly newspapers was awarded to the Bee Gee News by the Ohio College Newspaper association convention last week plus four individual awards for merit. Six of the editors, the business manager, and two members of the journalism department attended the 21st annual OCN A convention at Marietta.

First place in advertising was won for "Open the Door Richard" which Lasalle and Koch's ran in the February 19 issue. Dora Terbizan, staff photographer, received a second place certificate for the stopped action shot of Burdett Fry twirling his baton as drum major.

Honorable mention for news stories, in which Kent State walked off with first, second, and third, went to Phyllis Bloemker for her story on the mess hall "No, It Isn't a Cemetery." The editorial "Don't idle bye . . . show some action" in the issue of October 23 also took an honorable mention.

Delegates Active

Prof. Jesse J. Currier, chairman of the journalism department, and Carl F. Ferner, advisor to the Bee Gee News, led round tables at the convention. Topics of their discussions were "Writing Editorials" and "Relation of the College Paper to the Administration and Faculty."

Nelson Williams, editor of the Bee Gee News, served as chairman of the nominations committee for the convention. Others attending were Lowell B. Howard and Lucal Foley, associate editors, Margaret Finney and Eileen Dewhurst, assistant editors, Blanche Spangler, feature editor, and Virginia Marion, business manager.

Vets Misstatement Means Jordan Trip

Public Law 346 trainees, who made a misstatement concerning their attendance at the summer session or have not yet declared their intention, should see J. W. Jordan, Monday, May 19.

Changes may be made for those reversing their plans concerning summer school, and those not declaring their intentions of attending the summer session at the April 2 meeting may do so Monday.

As this is the last possible chance for changes to be made, it is essential that all P.L. 346 veterans declare their intentions to avoid undue delay in subsistence checks.

Contact Man Solves Insurance Problems

Veterans' insurance problems should be handled through Mr. Webster, Veterans' Administration contact officer, who will be in Dean McFall's office the first and third Tuesday of every month from 1 to 3 p.m.

Veterans unable to see Mr. Webster at these hours may confer with him at the United States Employment office, 158 W. Wooster, the remainder of the day. Mr. Webster will be in Bowling Green May 20.

Large Number of Recitals Will Be Given During Week

An unusual number of recitals are in store for music lovers this week as four programs will be presented for the benefit of the students and general public. Two more are to be presented the following week.

Three Bowling Green students will give a violin recital Monday, May 19, at 8:15 p.m. in the Ad building auditorium. The students, Jim Dunn, Jean Graham, and Howard Mickens, are all pupils of Gerald McLaughlin, music instructor.

It will be the first violin recital by any Bowling Green students in some time. Dunn will play Bach's "Arioso," Handel's "Minuet" and Massenet's "Meditation" from "Thais."

Jean will render Mozart's "Concerto in A" in three movements, while Mickens will play "Concerto in D Major," by Bruch, also in three movements. All three students are music majors in the College of Education.

Tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Ad building auditorium eleven students will combine their efforts and present an organ recital.

Those students participating will be Jean Dilworth, Helyn Dombrady, Bob Ferrell, Kathleen Fischer, Marjorie Lichty, Virginia McDarr, Maralee Moore, Helen Schall, Bill Steiner, Lois St. Aubin, and Ruth Wonnell.

Senior recitals for the month of May will be Dorothy Ashbrook, soprano, May 15; Virginia McDarr, trombonist, May 23; and Jean Meek, soprano, May 26. All senior recitals will be at 8:15 in the Practical Arts auditorium.

The Band fraternity will give a recital tonight in the Practical Arts auditorium at 8:15. The program will feature solos and ensembles from the members of the fraternity.

This honorary music fraternity has been recently formed on the campus. Men who play in the concert and marching bands and who have ability on their respective instruments are eligible to become a member.

Let's play the tune

President Truman and the state department has deemed it necessary, and correctly so, that we lend money and troops to the present Greek royalist government so that Greece may become economically and politically strengthened and thereby do its part in helping check the rising tide of communism stemming from the Kremlin.

It is certainly agreed by almost everyone that this policy has been wise and correct. We must do everything we possibly can to stop communism regardless of the monetary expense. There is only one difficulty.

The present royalist government is not representative of the majority of the Greek people and every single day we support such a government we are not only defying the principles of the Atlantic Charter, we are making enemies of a majority of the Greek population.

It is true that there are communist guerillas fighting the government but they are in the minority. The bulk of the guerilla forces are made up of social democrats, who could easily win any fair election now held.

It all adds up to this. While we may be accomplishing our prime purpose by checking the spread of communism, why can't we go a step further in checking the reds, by holding fair elections and showing the world that we are ready to uphold the principles of the Atlantic Charter wherever our influence lies? In other words "if we pay the piper, let's call the tune."

what's wrong with the out-system

The system of cuts as it now stands does not accomplish the purpose for which it was set up. It may be true that students should have a limited number of cuts per semester but recent information gathered from the Office of the Dean of Students disproves the fact that students pay much attention to the total number of cuts allotted them.

The truth of the matter is that through the first semester of the present school year $730 was taken in as fines for over-cuts, and that in itself is an unusually low figure. In previous years the amount for one semester has run as high as $1500 and it is understood that this total has a good chance of being reached this semester.

We might advocate that the trivial $1 fine is not enough and that it should be raised. This might solve the problem of getting the students to class but it would cause much resentment among the student body.

A better plan would be the honor system now being used in many colleges and universities throughout the country. It has proven successful in many instances and there is no reason why Bowling Green cannot give it at least a fair trial.

a letter from mom

Dear Superintendent:

I appreciate your kind offer of a job for my girl. She had her heart set on bein' a schoolteacher, but I talked her out of it. Teachin' school is too much like bein' a preacher's wife. It's a high callin' but people expect you to give mor'n they pay for.

You take the teachers here in town. The only difference twixt them and the Christian martyrs is the date and lack of bonfire. They are hired to teach and they do it. They teach the youngens that learn, and entertain the ones that fell on their heads when they were little. That ain't enough. Their suppose to make obedient little angels out of spoiled brats that never minded nobody, and wet nurse little wildcats so their mothers kin get a rest, and make genyuses out of kids that couldn't have no sense with the parents they got.

But that ain't the worst. They've got to get up shows and plays to work the school out of debt, and sing in the choir and teach a Sunday School class, and when they ain't doin' nothin' else they're supposed to be a good example.

They don't git no pay for three months, and can't pay there board or buy decent clothes and on top of everything else they can't hold hands comin' home from prayer meetin' without some gossipy old sister startin' a scandal.

I'd just as soon be a plow mule. A mule wurks just as hard, but can relieve its soul by kickin' up its heels after a hard days toil without startin' eny talk. I precciate your kind offer, and may the Lord have mercy on you, but my daughter ain't interested.

Student Designs Adorn Club Wall

by Marjorie Swank

The University Club has acquired the new addition of some gay and colorful sketches on the west wall. They are the work of the elementary design class of Esko Rentola.

This all started as a contest among the students to design a menu cover for the club. The result is a collection of original abstractions and conventional designs which show vivid imagination.

Fifty-eight students competed in the contest for the three prizes. First place was won by Emil Pavlica who received a prize of $3 in merchandise for his menu cover with a slogan "The University Club presents an adventure in good eating."

For example: one sketch is done in gay Mexican colors showing a sleeping peon reposing against a tree with the sign "University Club" hanging on his crossed foot. There is another one showing records and savory food concoctions floating in the air with a music staff winding throughout.

Janet Kiplinger won the second prize of $2 in merchandise for her design of an abstraction of a flower in shades of green against a cream background. Third prize of $1 in merchandise was won by Carol Adam for her abstraction of a soda fountain.

These three are now working together to create the cover which will be used. The finished product will use the combined winning points of each.

The contest has given an incentive to the students to see their work displayed. The sketches with their clever ideas have added a touch of color to the University Club's wall.

Dr. Zaugg Leads Crowded Life

by Harry West

Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, professor of education, leads a more crowded life than most people probably realize. In addition to his duties as a professor, he is constantly being asked to deliver commencement, memorial, and dinner addresses in all parts of the state. At this time he is booked for every night until June 6.

Dr. Zaugg is well known as a speaker. Evidence of this is the fact that he has addressed each of the 32 Wood county school units during his 24 years at Bowling Green. His commencement talk at Tontogany May 21, will be his seventh at that school.

A humorous experience occurred several years ago when Dr. Zaugg was asked to speak at an outdoor commencement exercise in the southeastern part of the state. The music was furnished by a local band composed of coal miners who were rather unfamiliar with the English language.

After preliminaries, the school superintendent rose to present the main speaker. His introduction lasted 15 minutes, at the end of which time the band broke into the closing number, thinking the address had been delivered. Dr. Zaugg thereupon waited patiently until the end of the number to speak.

Men's Glee Club Not Quite to Par

by Joan Aufrance

The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. James Paul Kennedy, presented their annual spring concert in the main auditorium at 8:15 p.m. last Friday evening.

This season's program was the second since the club has been re-organized, however, they are not yet up to their pre-war standards. The program included a well rounded selection of religious, spiritual, and light modern songs.

Featured was Tarantella, a modernistic American work by Randall Thompson. This difficult number was given a fine presentation by the group while they were very ably accompanied by Jack Kocher at the piano.

Paul Meyer, tenor; Ralph Schriempf, baritone; and Byron Sideras, bass, gave a good account of themselves as soloists.

Outstanding numbers were "Donkey Serenade" by Denza, "The Creation" by Richter, and "Stouthearted Men" by Romberg.

Hold Down the Desk

Mess Hall Messes Up Love For Coed Cuties at Kohl

by Emil Isaacson

Occasionally life can be beautiful, but previews of coming distractions viewed by this imaginative freshman eye points to another aspect of life. In a local paint shop an unsentimental man paints the words which will bring depression to all who now dine at Kohl hall. This bubble-buster fashions the sign, "For Women Only."

Last week an interesting cross-sectional poll of the Kohl hall women indicated the predicted depression. There is no great enthusiasm for the proposed change which will come in September if the cafeteria is complete.

To Kohl hall women—the angels in our dream-bubble—the change will mean: Giving up Jack at breakfast; standing in line with Bill during lunch time; holding hands with Mike at dinner. No crowding in line to be next to Joe; no more sitting opposite that handsome somebody who is a secret love; no more bridge after meals.

The change will mean so much to some girls that they threaten to eat next door at the cafeteria with the boys. One beautiful one, however, looked forward to more relaxed dressing for breakfast. It would be nice to drag downstairs to a family-style breakfast in sloppy-joes, a housecoat, and hair curlers—but she, like the others, sighed over the loss.

While the Kohl hall tears drip into creamy corn-flakes, let us look for Jack, Bill, and Mike. In the morning chill they stand in line outside the cafeteria. Do they approve the change? Ha-Ha.

"For Women Only!" ah—that unsentimental painter!

Jugs and Gals Mean Spree For Hillbillies of Dogpatch

Jedges A Goin' At Hawg Rassel

by Doris Masell

Suuuuuee, suuuuee . . . these odd sounds were heard coming from the Men's Gym when the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity presented their annual Sadie Hawkins' dance last Saturday night. Short fringed skirts, corn-cob pipes, beards and pigs all helped turn B.G. into Dogpatch for a night. XXX jugs slung over the Dogpatcher's shoulders typified the hillbilly element hidden in the best of B.G.'s student body.

Things were carried out to the fullest extent when females were seen picking up their dates and carrying corsages (if you can refer to them as such) made of carrots, weeds, onions, and other repulsive substitutes for flowers. In some cases these disappeared during the dance when dates became hungry.

The rarest way of picking up a date was thought up by Helen Boulton who toted her Li'l Abner, Earl Wright, to the dance in a red wagon. They were afterward rewarded for this rarity by being selected the most typical couple.

The most outstanding decoration was the public telephone booth on the dance floor which would have looked more at home at the back of a farmer's house. Potato sacks, hanging from the balcony, hay mounds scattered around the pen full of pigs were only minor attractions.

Jean Weiger and her date, Elmer Brown, were selected the most obnoxious couple. Jean's rag doll and Elmer's short pants and red stockings helped them win the title. Skip Ward's magnetic political personality seemed to have carried over to the pigs; he took first in the hog calling contest.

Rocky Utterbach won the title of B.G.'s Hairless Joe and with this decision, boys are shaving their beards and girls are taking the tape off their chins.

See These Lads To Get in Print

Overheard in the Well recently, "I wonder how those stories and pictures get into the papers."

To that lad and others who stop to read the clippings and wonder—they are released by the University news bureau, headed by Paul W. Jones, director, and his two part-time assistants, Billie Crowell and Glenna Steele.

The sports department is covered by Don Cunningham and his assistant, Dick Herring, both former Bee Gee News sports editors.

Whenever a "good copy" student has a writeup in the college paper, another story is sent to his hometown paper. Very often the story is picked up by one of the press services and used in papers throughout the country.

Unbeaten Falcons Mark Up Win List of Half Dozen

by T. J. Loomis

The undefeated Bowling Green baseball team hung up victory number six Friday when they swamped Albion college, 15-3. Using but ten hits to score their runs, the Falcons coasted to an easy triumph behind the stellar three hit pitching of Gerald Pingle and Kay Roob.

Glen Honner, Bee Gee left fielder, was the big gun in the attack, blasting three doubles in four trips to the plate. The power was concentrated in the upper third of the batting order as the lead-off and number two batters, Don Kuhlman and George Bohanna, also had three hits in four attempts.

Coach Warren Stellar's starting hurler, Pingle, let the opposition down with two hits, a home run and single by Scottfield, Albion first baseman, his six innings on the hill. Roob, who appears to have cinched a starting assignment in future contests, came on in the seventh and allowed only one man to reach first in the last three frames.

Findlay Proves Tough

Although outtith ten to five, the Falcons made their blows count to defeat Findlay college, 5-4, amid May snowflurries here last Thursday.

Fred Petrides started on the hill for Bowling Green but was forced to retire with a bad elbow in the fifth after allowing four hits. Lou Cross relieved with the visitors ahead, 3-1, and went on to become the winning pitcher. Max Ginn tossed all the way for the losers and dropped a heartbreaker.

The Falcons forged ahead in their half of the fifth after two men had been retired. Don Kuhlman smashed his first of two singles, George Bohanna walked, Glen Honner got his second single of the day. Then Buck Martin lofted a prodigious triple to center and came sliding home with the fourth Bee Gee marker of the frame when the Findlay second baseman fumbled the relay.

The visitors kept pecking away at the offerings of Cross and entering the last inning the score-board read 5-3. Lead-off man Peeters connected for his fourth hit of the day, a windblown triple off the glove of Tom Inman in centerfield. At this point second sacker Kuhlman produced the defensive gem of the game when he went back along the foul line in right to make a beautiful diving catch of an apparent Texas-leaguer. The run scored as Knierim, who had just gone into left, erred on a fly. Then, trying for the second half of a game ending double play, shortstop Kubiak tossed wide to first as the tension mounted. Undaunted, Cross bore down even harder to force the next batter to pop-up, ending the ball game.

Big Scores Feature Fraternity Loop

Although touched for the first hit in four starts, Bud Flegle twirled the Chi Sigma nine to their fourth straight win by disposing of the Kappa Tau team, 12-2. Bob Bolce of the losers ruined Flegle's string of hitless innings when he beat out a bunt in Wednesday's game.

SAE kept their pace, one-half game behind the leaders by defeating the ATO entry, 9-2, as Max Minnich twirled three hit ball and helped his own cause with a home run. Sigma Nu trampled over the Kappa Sigma Delta nine, 15-5, with Bob Korn turning in a bit of brilliant clutch pitching. Walker Bainbridge led the attack with a grand slam homer and two singles.

PIKA hung up their first win at the expense of the Phi Delta nine in a wild affair 27-12. The Chi Theta outfit drew a bye.

Sprinters Upset Favored Detroit

Bowling Green's undefeated track team upset a favored University of Detroit squad in the Motor city Saturday by a humiliating 87-44 count. Bob Conroy led the Falcons to victory with triumphs in the broad jump and high and low hurdles.

Most exciting event of the day was the pole vault in which Jim Whittaker scaled 12' 6" to tie Titan whiz Bernie Archer for first place and finish ahead of Detroit captain Paul Deschamps, one time Alabama vaulter. Jim nicked the bar off with his arm in his final chance at 13 feet.

Bee Gee's Weaver and Weber took double victories, the former in the mile and half mile and the latter in the shot and the discus. Petrie won the two mile and finished second in the mile, while Long and Smithy also placed in two events for the Falcons.

Big Al Schindler, pre-war B. G. javelin tosser, was drafted for the meet Saturday and responded with a 170 foot heave that took top honors in the event the Titans had expected to win with ease.

Coach Robert H. Whittaker was minus the services of Cliff Baker, record holding quarter miler, and Lee Graziotti, former javelin star at the U. of D

Golf Team Cops Two Decisions

by Tommy Foy and Ed Cheslock

Bowling Green's golf team took two out of the three matches played last week copping a pair of decisions over the Ohio Wesleyan Bishops in home and away contests and dropping one to Ohio Northern by the slim margin of two points. Ohio Northern's Polar Bears were well suited for this match which was played amid early spring snow flurries on a wet, soggy course.

In Wednesday's match at Wesleyan, Walker and Halter's wins coupled with Seiple's tie gave the Falcon golfers enough points to produce a 7½-4½ victory for them. Seiple turned in the best score of the day, carding an 82 for the eighteen holes.

In the return match with Wesleyan at the Bowling Green Golf club the Falcons had a tougher time of it but managed to eke out a one point 6½-5½ victory over the Bishops. In this match, Dick Halter shot a low 75 but was topped by Neil Pritchard of Wesleyan who had a two over par 74. Ennis Walker and Jack Hersland came through with a 79 and 78 respectively to insure the Bowling Green victory.

In their losing match with the strong Ohio Northern linksmen, Davis, Walker, and Hersland garnered Falcon wins in the singles and Walker and Hersland combined to take one of the three doubles matches played. The final tally for this match was Ohio Northern 14½; Bowling Green 12½.

The next scheduled match is with the Ohio State Junior Varsity on the local links on Saturday afternoon.

Bowling Green Drubs Student Princes

Combining a 12 hit attack with a superb pitching job by lanky George Vucovitch the Falcon nine kept their winning streak intact with a 10-2 win over Heidelberg.

Vucovitch in his first mound effort of the year set the "Princes" down without a single until a sharp single in the fifth inning ruined his no hitter.

The Falcons got two runs in the first inning, one in the third, four in the fourth, two more in the sixth, and added a final tally in the seventh. Both of Heidelberg's runs came in the fifth inning.

Louis Cross relieved Vucovitch in the sixth and held the Princes hitless for three frames. Ray Robb hurled the final inning and set Heidelberg down in order.

Miller started on the mound for Heidelberg but was replaced in the second inning by Bohn who went the distance.

turn back Youngstown on the local courts.

The diamond aggregation meets two previously defeated foes, Friday traveling to Tiffin to meet the Student Princes of Heidelberg and Saturday the Hillsdale contest here. Bowling Green handily defeated the Princes in last week's meeting, so look for them to do the same in Friday's game.

Hillsdale was the first win of the current season for the Stellarmen, and though the Dales did prove stubborn in the early innings, the Falcons should add another victim to their growing list, in this one. Watch for the sparkling play of Freshman George Bohanna, Bowling Green third baseman, whose work this season has been the bright spot of the team.

Netmen Seek Win

The tennis team meets Wittenberg Friday, Kenyon Saturday, and Youngstown Tuesday. Not much is known about the strength of either Youngstown or Kenyon but look for Wittenberg to be tough. They boast five lettermen in Earl Fritts, Fred Daupenspeck, Gene Hannum, Don Hast, and Don Strasburg.

Coach Clyde "Ace" Parker will have his Big Three of Dave Scudder, Bob Conner, and Harding Monroe, in top condition for these contests. Also keep an eye on the Kempton Jenkins, John "Red" Maring duo, they showed signs of promise in racking up victories in the doubles against Case and Michigan Normal last week.

Linksmen On Job

Bowling Green Country club will be the scene of the Ohio State Junior Varsity and Youngstown matches on Saturday and Tuesday respectively. Ennis Walker and Maurice Seiple will lead Coach Fred Marsh's linksmen against these foes in an effort to chalk up two wins for their record.

The track team will be idle during the coming week, not having a meet until May 24, when they go south to meet the University of Cincinnati. On June 7 they will participate in the Ohio College meet at Delaware.
